DETAILED ACTION

The allowability of previously allowed claim 28 is withdrawn, therefore, claims 13, 14, 16 and 33-35 are also rejected as presented below.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 13, 14, 16 and 33-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gambale et al. (6,315,778). Gambale et al. disclose a medical probe and its method of use, comprising:

an elongate shaft (Figure 1, # 38);

an inflatable balloon (Figure 5, # 102) distally located on the elongate shaft, the balloon having a first diameter (distal diameter of 110), a second diameter (diameter of 34), and a third diameter (diameter of 108) located between the first and second diameters, wherein the third diameter is less than both the first and second diameters, the first diameter is coupled to the third diameter by a distal-facing sloping surface, and the second diameter is coupled to the third diameter by a proximal-facing sloping surface; and a therapeutic element (RF, microwave, ultrasound or laser for ablation) located on the distal-facing sloping surface; and wherein the second diameter is less than the first diameter (col. 1, line 63-col. 2, line 45, col. 3, lines 20-29 and col. 6, line 66-col. 7, line 24).

Note the examiner has corrected the element numbers for the various dismetes.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 17-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gambale et al. in view of Lim et al. (6,488,688). Gambale et al. fail to specifically disclose the material used in the manufacture of the balloon. However, Lim et al. disclose a medical device (stent deploying catheter system and balloon catheter) with an elongate shaft and an inflatable semi-compliant balloon located on the elongate shaft comprising a polymer made from the same material as claimed and of a thickness as claimed (Tecophilic which is equivalent to Tecoflex as stated by Applicant on page 7 of the Specification and see col. 10, line4-col. 11, line 3). Therefore, at the time of the invention it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to look to the disclosure of Lim et al., to determine a suitable material for the balloon of Gambale et al. for the application or procedure within the heart.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-12, 22-32 are allowed.

Claims are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
